

Couple give new lease of life to The Queens village pub

THE QUEENS pub in Selborne re-opened last week after a 10-week refurbishment. The pub has undergone £100,000 of work and is now owned by business partners Nick Morfitt, 41, and his partner Erick Chobert, 36, beside a royal wedding party on April 29 to mark the grand opening of the new pub. The pub is a garden party, where they enjoyed champagne, Pilsners and jazz.

The pub has been described as a garden party, where they enjoyed champagne, Pilsners and jazz. Mr Morfitt said the party was a great success, estimating that around 300 people had attended. He had worried that older royal wedding events locally might deter the numbers, but the opposite was true. "We were more than happy with the event - it was really impressive," he said.

"We love it here. There are really nice people and it's not been in The Queens for 40 odd years." Mr Morfitt has more than 20 years of experience, owning bars and restaurants in Virginia and the UK. He said the restaurant is a "fantastic" and "not many great pubs in our area". "I've never seen a pub like this in the area," he said. "We've also introduced a breakfast menu for the hotel as not many pubs offer breakfast and it's extremely popular." "The pub is a great place to work in. We've also introduced a breakfast menu for the hotel as not many pubs offer breakfast and it's extremely popular."

Mr Morfitt described the restaurant as a "fantastic" and "not many great pubs in our area". "I've never seen a pub like this in the area," he said. "We've also introduced a breakfast menu for the hotel as not many pubs offer breakfast and it's extremely popular." "The pub is a great place to work in. We've also introduced a breakfast menu for the hotel as not many pubs offer breakfast and it's extremely popular."

Nick Morfitt and Eric Chobert (BD18-08-11)

Nick Morfitt, Eric Chobert and staff (BD18-07-11) www.bournemouth.com

Erick Chobert-East The QUEENS Selborne (Boutique Hotel , Piano E & Restaurant)

7 May 2011

Like Share

11

Christine Galdino Girard C'est vraiment très joli et très original. Qui a eu toutes ces idées?Encore bonne chance. bises.

Gy · Like

Nerys Beattie Wow! Woo hoooo! xx

Gy · Like

Stéphanie Gosset Bravo et félicitations à vs deux!!!! Vous méritez tellement! Plein de bisousssss mouahhh

Gy · Like